Loretta LaRoche

Loretta is an international stress management and humor consultant whose wit, and irreverent humor, has, for over 30 years raised the humor potential in all of us. Loretta's energetic keynotes serve to improve learning skills and put a room in an enthusiastic frame of mind. She has been nominated for local and prime time Emmy Awards and appeared on CNN, ABC and NBC. She has authored 6 books and her latest, Kick Up Heels Before You're Too Short to Wear Them, was published Fall 2007.

Alison Levine

Alison Levine is the leader of the First American Women's Everest Expedition and Founder of the Climb High Foundation. Levine is no stranger to risk-taking. She has survived sub-zero temperatures, avalanches, and a career on Wall Street. Surprisingly, Levine was born with a life-threatening heart condition and as a teenager her health was so unstable that she was not even allowed to do such basic things as walk up stairs. In 2002, Levine was invited to serve as the team captain of the first American Women's Everest Expedition, a history-making climb that would put her heart and her spirit to the test.

Ken Blanchard

A prominent speaker and business consultant, Dr. Blanchard is universally characterized by his friends, colleagues, and clients as one of the most insightful, powerful, and compassionate individuals in business today. When Ken speaks, he speaks from the heart with warmth and humor. From his phenomenal best-selling book, The One Minute Manager®, to the library of books, Gung Ho!®, Big Bucks!, and High Five!, Ken's impact as a writer is far reaching. In 2004, Ken was awarded with The Thought Leadership Award for continued support of work-related learning and performance.
